

Twisted Fairy Tales : Who poisoned Snow White ?

Once upon a time, Snow White, who was a rebellious teen, ran away from her castle and her stepmother, the evil queen. She took refuge at the home of the 7 dwarves: Doc, who was always acting like a chief, Grumpy, permanently in a bad mood, Bashful, who was just too shy, Happy, as his name suggests was happy, Sleepy, couldn't help but to take a nap everytime, Sneezy, who was always sick, and Dopey, who was really stupid. They were all good guys.. At least.. That's what we thought of them at first...

A few days later, Bashful came home and found... The dead corpse of Snow White ! Well, he fainted. But some hours later, he woke up. Then called his brothers and the police. Then there was an investigation. The detectives were smart, but the alibi of each dwarf was strong as rock, and the only clues they found.. led them to the evil queen.

Sadly... It wasn't her. She would say « Are you crazy ? I'm not that low to poison a princess, even if I dislike her ! ». Despite all her arguments, she had no alibi and was the main suspect. Since no one was going to take her defense, she decided to investigate herself.

She went to see each dwarf. Obviously, Dopey was too foolish to poison someone, so the first one she saw was Happy, who was a true party-animal. He told her that he was at a party and... was totally drunk. There were lots of witnesses, so it couldn't be him. The second one, Sneezy, the one who was always sick.. had caught a very bad cold and was at the hospital. Since Doc was the one who drove him to it, he was also discarded as suspect : the doctor confirmed the queen that it was true. The fourth one, Sleepy, was sleeping in a hotel. The cameras and videos confirmed that his alibi was justified. The fifth one, Grumpy, was seeing a psychologist because of his unbelievable anger. He testified that he had also seen Bashful, who was too shy to enter the room of the psychologist for the first time of his life.

As the queen continued her investigation and interrogated all the dwarves, she still found no clue. She was desperate. She tried to remember all the clues that were found on the crime scene.. An apple.. A piece of purple fiber.. Usual home affairs.. Wait.. Purple fiber ? She thought again. She had seen every one of the seven dwarves.. And the only one who was wearing purple was ....Dopey ! She gasped. How did she not think about that? She had cleared him from the beginning only because he was silly.. Or seemed to be silly ! But he was the only one with no alibi !

She ran to their house while calling the police. On the way, she told them that not every clue led to her.. But to him ! As she arrived to the cozy place, it seemed Dopey saw her : He was trying to escape ! But he had forgotten something : he was slow, and the queen was surprisingly athletic ! She grabbed his collar. He threatened and insulted her, as the police and the other dwarves were coming nearer. Everyone was shocked : it was the first time they saw Dopey with such a behavior.. And heard him.. Speaking ?!

« How did you find out ? You stupid *biip*, I'm gonna *biiip* you ! And then I will *biiip* you and your whole family, like I did with that little brat ! Who did she think she was ? Eating all my apples in secret ! She thought I wouldn't notice ! I know I act as if I'm stupid, but I'm not that stupid ! Eating somebody's apple, - » and he continued speaking this way for at least one hour while the police was arresting him. (We must say this was very boring for them.)

Finally, the evil queen became friend with the other dwarves, who couldn't understand what had happened to Dopey, and she even began to live with them, since they were more grateful than these stupid citizens that were calling her evil. That way, she and the dwarves lived together happily ever after !
