

« Opening night » : The Play To See

A captivating detective story performed for French students

The poster of the theatre play

The play « Opening Night » was written by a playwright named Loïc Petit. It's a detective story where three actors perform. Each actor plays several characters. The performance took place at Carnot high school in Roanne on February 13th in front of an audience of students between 15 and 16 years old.

In this play, a talented and beautiful actress named Madison Reese was found dead on the stage of the Unity Theatre. There is an investigation team with three characters ; Mike O'Neill played by Matthew, Agent Rookie played by different students of the school and Chief Batista played by Kendall.

There are four suspects who are Brian Kane, Paul Edison, Lorcan and Ciara Stone. The inspectors investigate on the crime and finally find that there was poison in Madison's lipstick. Later, they find a stash of poison in Paul's drawer. Remember that there are four suspects so is Paul really the killer ? I will let you see the play by yourself and I'm sure that you will really enjoy it !

This play is a must-see performance with humour and mystery.
