

Fish And Ships , a Wonderful Play :

A play about a mysterious and tragic accident on an island.

Fish and Ships is a theater play in which a detective is trying to solve a murder , a disappearance. This play was performed by three actors and some pupils of Carnot High School on the 23rd of April.

This play starts with Mike , the detective going on an island to find who killed Robert O' Leary . Later , he'll find out that there are illegal activities happening and he'll find out that the person he was trying to find was closer than he would have ever thought .

Even though there were elements that weren't really well-made like the set since they probably couldn't bring everything at the school , most of the essential things for a good play were here : the actors did an excellent job , the costumes were incredible , ...

At the end of the play , we learned that the actresses were American and the one who played Mike was British , they even said the states or the region where they live. They also shared their favorite characters , Abigail said that her favorite character is the dead fish they were keeping to make the students laugh , which is great since we can feel that they're trying to "connect" with the pupils to make the play even funnier.

To conclude , Fish and Ships is a great play and if you're looking for an activity for your students , go check their website :
